IF YOU WANT TO LOOK SLICK

For a little money, purchase your slickness at the Home of Honest Values. There never was a time when every department of our clothing house was more attractive than at this minute.

The rush of orders for our Semi-Custom Made Suits last Saturday shows what the young men think of them It speaks louder than words, and the mob in our Overcoat Department on the same day tells the same story. There is wisdom and economy in purchasing your personal decoration and cold weather comfort of a reliabl e house.

The Admirals and Midgets played a very close and exciting game of football last Saturday morning neither side being able to score. The teams were about evenly matched for weight and speed. The Midgets had a little the better of the playing in the second half going through the Admirals' centre for good gains but were unable to push it over.

Tuesday evening, the old gymnasium at Abbot Academy, was the scene of a most successful Sunday school picnic, even though the season for that sort of an outing seems to have passed. The day scholars invited the school to this picnic and the note of invitation assured us that "the primary teachers would take care of the children in their respective classes, so that the deacons and elderly members of the school might be free to enjoy the occasion." The deacon who did come with his good wife seemed to enjoy the picnic; the minister, the Rev. Mr. Preachwell, was unfailing in courtesy and thoughtfulness, the elderly members were of course exemplary in conduct and the children, though a trifle noisy, well behaved. The basket lunch was most satisfactory, the room was made to look like a pretty bit of grove. The floor was strewn with pine needles, pine boughs decorated the room, swing and hammock gave a picnic look to the scene. In fact the picnic was an unparalled success.

Guild Clothing Sale

Sale of clothing of every description will be open at the Guild House on Saturday afternoon and evening, November 7, from three till nine o'clock.

Principal Stearns of Phillips Academy is in attendance at a conference on secondary education at Evanston, Illinois, called by the Northwestern University of Chicago. Mr. Stearns will give the opening address on "The Present Situation in Secondary Education."

The Crescents defeated the Alerts of Lawrence at the Riding Park, last Saturday, in a rough, scrappy game. Score: Crescents 10, Alerts 0. The game started with the Alerts kicking to R. Dixon who ran the ball in 10 yards. On the next play with fine interference Anderson circled the end on a 90-yard run for a touchdown. In the second half the Crescents kicked off, the Alerts rushing the ball to the centre of the field, where Dudley got it on a fumble. After the ball had changed hands several times, the Crescents got it and gains by R. Dixon and Anderson took it up the field. Then with only a few minutes to play and the goal 25 yards away, Shorty Long broke through left tackle for the second touchdown. Crescent's line-up: Dudley (capt), le; J. Dixon, lt; W. Morrisey, lg; McCormick, c; Valentine, rg; D. Anderson rt; J. Ross, re; Dunn, qb; Long, lhb; R. Dixon, fb; J. Anderson, rhb. Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up feeling rested and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. J. N. ——, care H. S. CURES CATARRH.

"Hyomei the Most Wonderful Cure for Catarrh Ever Discovered," Says E. M. & W. A. Allen.

Do not try to cure catarrh by taking drugs into the stomach; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be cured is through a direct application that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Hyomei is the only known method of treatment that accomplishes this. It is the simplest, most pleasant, and the only absolute cure for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials have been received from the most prominent men and women in the country who have been cured by this remarkable remedy. Ministers, bankers, lawyers, even eminent physicians have given strong testimonials as to the remarkable powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, consisting of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei to last several weeks. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use may be necessary, and then extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of curing catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

E. M. & W. A. Allen have so much confidence in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh that they will for a limited time, sell this medicine under their personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchasers can say that it did not help them.

ANNIE RUSSELL CROWDING THE PARK THEATRE.

Score another big hit for Annie Russell, perhaps the biggest of all the triumphs she has achieved in the six years she has been one of Charles Frohman's stars. It certainly does look from the immediate conquest Miss Russell made in Boston when the first performance of "Mice and Men" was given and from the packed, delighted and enthusiastic audiences that have seen her in Mrs. Ryley's play since, as though she has a record breaker in "Mice and Men." It is a quaint, a dainty and a pretty play and in it Miss Russell is all that she has been heretofore to theatre-goers, and besides that she has something new. Her Peggy is an exquisite creation, perhaps more roguishly humorous and fuller of human quality than any of her previous roles, but as true to life, as sweet and winsome, and sympathy-compelling and as strong emotionally as any of the types of attractive womanhood she has given us. There is a magnificent blending of the best that has gone before, with the charming phases of the present character, and every admirer of Miss Russell will declare it a most winsome addition to her successes. Mrs. Gilbert, a great favorite, has a role that gives scope to her well known comedy abilities. Oswald Yorke and John Mason, as the two lovers of Peggy, contribute notably to the interest and merit of the performance.

The engagement of Miss Russell was originally for two weeks, but Charles Frohman has extended it and four weeks will be allowed to Miss Russell, even this extension will prove to be not sufficient. The demand for seats shows this conclusively. Seats for the entire engagement have been placed on sale in order to accommodate those wishing to arrange theatre parties.

The production is one that has called forth universal praise. The remodelled Park Theatre has certainly proven to be a winner and it has become at once a foremost amusement resort for the highest class of theatre goers. Particular attention is called to the fact that during the engagement of Annie Russell, matinees will be given only on Saturdays.

FOOTBALL.

Haverhill H. S. 17, Andover 0

The Haverhill High school football eleven won its seventh successive victory without being scored on Saturday, by defeating the Andover town team 17 to 0. Andover could not gain through the local's forwards or around the ends, for their defence was very strong. For the Haverhills, Tuccolo, Fred Kelley, Chick and Whittemore played best, while Stewart and Hardy excelled for Andover. The summary:

Score—Haverhill H. S. 17, Andover 0. Touchdowns, Whittemore, Martin, Chick. Goals from touchdowns, Kimball 2. Umpire, Sprague. Referee, Maroney. Linesmen, Miner and Angus. Time, 15 min. halves.

Victory for St. Paul's.

The choir football teams of the St. Paul's church of North Andover and the Christ church of this town battled for supremacy on the gridiron, in this town Saturday afternoon. The North Andover boys proved too much for the local team, and carried off the honors by the score of 10 to 2. Hargreaves played a star game for the visitors, scoring both touchdowns, one of which resulted after a 50 yard run. The North Andover boys made all their score in the last half. The Andover boys succeeded in rushing the ball to their opponents' one yard line where they were held for downs.

The ball went to the visitors and they were pushed behind the goal for a touchback and prevented the locals from being whitewashed.

Referee, A. Cummings. Umpires, J. Soutar, C. Ayers. Timer, Mr. Morse. Twenty minute halves.

Tigers Victorious

The Tigers and the Clippers, two local football teams, played a hot and closely contested game of football Saturday afternoon which resulted in a victory for the former by the score of 5 to 0. As much rivalry existed between the two teams the excitement among the supporters of each aggregation was at a high pitch during the entire contest.

Haddon, Eldredge and Porter excelled for the Tigers, while Malone and Foster were the stars for the Clippers.

The nearest the Clippers got to their opponents' goal line was the 20 yard line in the first half of the game when Malone tried to kick a goal from the field but failed. When time was called at the end of the game the Tigers had possession of the ball on their opponents' five yard line and were making fast progress towards scoring another touchdown. The teams lined up as follows:

THE STRAIN OF A BUSINESS LIFE

Is greater in this country than elsewhere for we do things bigger, better and faster, but it tells on the nerves. Business worries and strain followed by debility is preparing the head of many a family for premature breakdown. The following is one of many like letters received by the Dr. Parker Medicine Co.:

"It affords me great pleasure to speak in highest terms of the wonderful effects of your Tonetic Tablets. The constant strain of business upon my nerves was making a wreck of me. Sleeplessness and loss of appetite soon put me in bad shape. A friend gave me Tonetic Tablets and upon using them, closely following directions, I've felt that quieting, restful good that restores the system, and judging from the appetite and restful sleep I now enjoy, it is not too much to say that Dr. Parker's Tonetic Tablets are the best and greatest nerve builder on the market. I will at all times testify to the high qualities of your medicines."

Respectfully, Louis Guyer,
443 W. 51st St., New York City.

A disordered condition of the nerves results in headaches, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, indigestion, defective nutriment of both body and brain. All the vital organs depend upon the nerves for health and vitality. Dr. Parker's Tonetic Tablets build up the entire nervous system and thus restore the whole body to a condition of perfect health.

Each box contains 50 Tonetic Tablets for body, blood and nerves, and a small box of Liveroid Tablets for liver and bowels. 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, at all druggists or the Dr. Parker Medicine Co., 51 & 53 Exchange St., Portland, Me., U. S. A. 30-6

RAN A TEN PENNY NAIL THROUGH HIS HAND.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by E. M. & W. A. Allen.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

ESSEX, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

In pursuance of a warrant issued to me on the 8th day of September, A. D. 1903, by the Probate Court, for said County of Essex, I, the subscriber commissioner therein named, will sell at public auction on the premises on Saturday, the fourteenth day of November, A. D. 1903, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, two certain tracts of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in Andover, in said county of Essex, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the railroad and at land now or formerly of John Wood; thence by land of said Wood westerly as the wall runs, 4 rods and 14 links; thence southerly by said Wood's land, 4 rods and 9 links to the corner by land now or formerly of the estate of Joseph L. Low; thence westerly by said Low's land, 4 rods, 8 links to the corner; thence northeasterly by said Low's land, 17 rods, 11 links to the corner; thence easterly by land of the late Colonel Benjamin Abbott, 12 rods, 12 links to the fence by the railroad; thence southerly by said fence 14 rods, 11 links to the first mentioned bound. Containing one acre and 97 rods, more or less.

Also another part of the same Punchard Pasture, so called, bounded as follows: Beginning at the corner of the old railroad and land set off to Ann Bell as dower; thence by said dower land westerly by the wall 17 rods to the fence by the new railroad; thence northerly by said fence 10 rods, 15 links to the corner; thence by land now or formerly of the late Colonel Benjamin Abbott easterly by the wall, 14 rods, 15 links to the old almshouse road; thence southerly 7 rods, 7 links; thence southerly 2 rods, 14 links to the first mentioned bounds. Containing one acre more or less, with the privilege of a cow-pass under the railroad; also reserving the right to pass and repass over the southeast corner from the dower lot.

Terms—$200 down at the time of the sale, and the balance in ten days.

FRED N. ABBOTT, Commissioner.

POLITICS and GOVERNMENT

General.

Weeding Out the P. O. D.

Coincident with the submission of the Bristow report on the postal investigation and due to its recommendations Postmaster General Payne dismissed from the service M. W. Lewis, chief of the supply division; C. B. Terry, a clerk under Lewis; Louis Kempner, superintendent of registry system, and Otto Weis, a clerk in the New York post office. These dismissals were made for extravagance in the use of materials and irregularities in their purchase.

Addicks Begins Again.

J. Edward Addicks, the millionaire gas man of Delaware, who has been spending his money for several years in an effort to be elected to the United States senate as a Republican, has begun a new campaign to capture the prize. A big meeting has been called at Dover and all Republicans invited to attend.

The U. S. Mint Scandal.

The disclosures of gross violations of the civil service rules in the Philadelphia mint made by Commissioner Cooley were brought to the attention of President Roosevelt, who summoned the mint authorities to a White House conference. After this it was announced that Superintendent Landis would make such reinstatements and removals as the commissioner desired and had promised to confine future appointments to the eligible lists. Mr. Cooley declared that at least forty clerks and employees of the mint had been removed irregularly, many of the removals being for the purpose of providing places for persons recommended by Pennsylvania politicians.

Bryan's Big Windfall.

That the late Philo S. Bennett, a wealthy resident of New Haven, Conn., had arranged secretly a clause in his will giving $50,000 to W. J. Bryan in the interest of the political principles of the Nebraskan, besides other large gifts to the Bryan family, was made known to the public last week when a sealed letter in connection with the Bennett will was opened and read before the probate court at New Haven in the presence of Mr. Bryan and A. P. Sloane, the executors, and of the widow of the deceased. The widow contested the will on the ground of undue mental influence exerted by Bryan over Bennett. Bryan at first said he would not take the money, but later decided to fight for it, if necessary, but with the avowed object of using it as a trust for educational purposes.

The New York Campaign.

The fight for the political control of Greater New York goes merrily on. The candidates and other leading orators are carried about the big town in automobiles, addressing several meetings the same evening. The Brooklyn Democracy, after being barely held in line by Leader McLaughlin, came around and indorsed the Tammany ticket, including Grout and Fornes. Jerome has met with some rebuffs for his earlier attack on Low, but his snap and vim have put Tammany on its mettle. The latter is concentrating its attack on the Citizens' Union, which in turn has painted the city red with big signs reading, "Vote For Low and Keep the Grafters Out." The betting veered in favor of Low. Jerome was compelled to retire on account of sickness.

Other Political Points.

The reported coolness between the president and Secretary Shaw over the retention of Comptroller Tracewell has been denied. The comptroller was held by Special Counsel Bonaparte to have been negligent in regard to the postal frauds. * * * The new special agent from Colombia, Senor Arciniegas, brings word that his government is not satisfied with the bonus offered for the canal concession. * * * United States Senator Foraker had to retire from the Ohio campaign last week, being seriously ill.

Executive.

To Deport an Anarchist.

While making the first of a series of addresses on economic questions at New York, Oct. 24, John Turner, the English labor leader and advocate of some form of anarchy, was arrested on the peremptory order of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Cortelyou and held for deportation on the first British ship. Under the new law no hearing is required in such cases. Turner's friends began habeas corpus proceedings to contest the constitutionality of the law. The address was not in any sense in advocacy of violence or bloodshed.

Representative Littauer Clear.

In the case of Representative Lucius N. Littauer of New York, accused of using official influence in securing army glove contracts for his glove manufactory, Attorney General Knox has ruled that the statute of limitations would prevent any legal action. The question of Littauer's culpability was not passed upon.

Missouri Beats the Maine.

In her trial trip over the Cape Ann course the new first class battle ship Missouri averaged 18.05 knots an hour, which, with the tidal allowances, was expected to make her official speed 18.22 knots. The average speed of the battle ship Maine was only 17.98 knots.

The new cruiser Detroit was found to be below the contract speed and not acceptable.

Extra Session Proclaimed.

President Roosevelt issued a proclamation calling an extraordinary session of congress on Nov. 9 for the purpose of approving the Cuban reciprocity treaty.

Public Service Notes.

The government has taken possession of the partly finished cruiser Chattanooga, which was held by the sheriff at the Crescent shipyards, Elizabethport, N. J., on order of the shipbuilding trust's creditors. * * * The naval estimates for the next fiscal year are $26,846,568 higher than last year. This is principally on account of new vessels under construction. * * * There is talk at Washington of new land frauds by which vast forest territory in the northwest has been secured through the use of dummy settlers under the forest reserve law. Three persons were indicted at Portland Tuesday.

Legal and Criminal.

St. Louis Forgery Case.

James L. Blair of St. Louis, formerly general counsel for the world's fair and well known as a local reformer, has been accused of embezzling $400,000 on forged deeds, dealing with Dick Bros. & Co. of New York and Philadelphia. His former stenographer, J. L. Roberts, is the accuser. Mr. Blair was prostrated by the exposure.

The Law In the Home.

A unanimous decision handed down by the supreme court of Massachusetts sustains the ruling of the lower court that a person drunk by the voluntary use of intoxicants may be arrested in his home without a warrant and convicted without regard to the place where the act is committed.

Self Incrimination Protected.

The New York court of appeals decided that Jesse Lewissohn, the rich clubman who had been summoned in the case of Richard Canfield, the gambler, could not be compelled to testify on the ground that his testimony might be used afterward as ground for an indictment against himself.

Cost of a Mob, $5,000.

The proceeds of the first verdict under the new Ohio law making a county liable for damages to the estate of a person who is killed by a mob within the county have been distributed to heirs of Charles W. Mitchell, lynched at Urbana in 1897.

Foreign.

New British Ambassador.

Sir Henry Durand, now British ambassador at Madrid, is to be transferred to Washington as successor to the late Ambassador Herbert, the United States having indicated that this change would be acceptable. Prior to his service at Madrid Sir Henry was minister to Persia.

Another Kongo Appeal.

The British foreign office again has sent a note to the European powers concerned in the treaty of Berlin announcing belief in the charges of cruelty in the Belgian government of the Kongo state and calling for a conference to institute reform. The note says that no efforts were made to fit the natives for industrial pursuits. It declares that the method of obtaining laborers was similar to that formerly applied to obtain slaves. Force was as much required now to take natives to a place of service as was formerly necessary to convey captured slaves. Instead of giving an administration, the officers were devoting their whole time to collecting revenue and monopolizing trade. It is suggested to refer the whole matter to The Hague tribunal.

A Japanese War Council.

Notwithstanding repeated Russian assurances of a peaceful settlement of the differences between Russia and Japan, the reports from Japan were to the effect that war is inevitable. Another conference of the elder statesmen was called at Tokyo to advise the government. Final warnings were issued to railroads and steamship lines, and a final conference between the Japanese and Russian authorities was expected. Russian preparations for war had not abated. The czar appointed a special commission, composed of Plehve, Lamsdorf, Kuropatkin, Tyrtoff and Admiral Alexieff, to take the responsibility with him for the final decision as to Japan.

Taking Over Macedonia.

It was believed that the Austrian and Russian ambassadors at Constantinople had notified the Turkish government of their governments' intention to take entire control of Macedonia for a period of two years to insure the pacification and reform of that section of Turkey. Both Bulgarian and Turkish troops were said to be disbanding.

For British-American Unity.

Andrew Carnegie during his visit to Limerick, Ireland, speaking of the great movement of the Irish people toward America, said he looked for the day when the United States and Canada would have a population of 250,000,000, and that with the British isles would form one nation. While at Limerick Mr. Carnegie laid the foundation stone of a library.

Armenian Leader Murdered.

Sagetel Sagouni, a prominent leader of the Armenian refugees, was shot down near his London residence Tuesday. Clews pointed to New York as the home of the murderer, who made his escape.

RELIGIOUS

Universalists Want a Head.

The general convention of the Universalist church at Washington Tuesday decided in favor of electing a single superintendent by the board of trustees to have entire control of the church.

Preacher For Scientific Murder.

The Rev. Dr. M. St. Croix Wright of the Lenox Avenue Unitarian church, New York, created a sensation in religious and scientific realms of thought by advocating that the physician have the right to take the life of incurables or aged. He said: "It is no part of the divine law that man should suffer beyond his strength or that he should suffer when his life cannot be saved. A future age may show us the fallacy of old established rules."

Dowie's Waterloo.

The results of the first week's contact of Dowie and his "host" with New York are certainly instructive on both sides. The Zionist organizer must have seen the futility of his abusive, rambling discourses, for he came down to a plainer style at his later meetings. Many of his followers became dissatisfied and discouraged and were sent back to Zion. The big city, on the other hand, has had a practical lesson in religious extravaganza and the absurdities to which it leads. Mr. Dowie's wife and son sailed from Boston for Australia.

Football Aids Religion.

At a recent mass meeting of students of the Northwestern university Dean Holgate made the contention that football "is a great help in religious duties."

SOCIOLOGICAL

Indians as Citizens.

The Lake Mohonk Indian conference at its annual meeting has adopted a platform in favor of giving all Indians the right of citizenship and discontinuing the agency system.

Moselyites See a Light.

In their inspection of the schools at the national capital the Mosely commission say they have "a better idea of the meaning of American democracy since they learned that Quentin Roosevelt, son of the president of the United States, is a public school boy.

Social Science Notes.

Miss Jane Addams, head worker of Hull House, Chicago, says in Charities, the New York review, that logical connection has been discovered between child labor and tramp life. * * * The Chicago Employers' association gives statistics showing that the average increase in the cost of living in Chicago for the past five years is 11.3 per cent instead of 25 to 40 per cent, as held by labor leaders.

Universal Christian Unity.

The dawn of a new era of religious toleration and Christian charity is surely visible in the declaration made by the all American conference of Protestant Episcopal bishops at Washington last week. Without surrendering what they believe to be their rights as a part of the holy Catholic church with unbroken succession and authority, this representative body formally announces that its contention for the faith "should be with unlimited charity to the Roman Catholic clergy and people rather in the spirit of maintenance, defense and proof than of controversy and attack."

In addition to this the conference proposes taking definite steps toward the union of all Protestant bodies in the western continent along the lines of an address delivered by the bishop coadjutor of Montreal. Thus the great question of a universal Christian unity is raised. Are there sufficient differences to justify what the bishops call "that visible unity of the church for which our Lord Jesus Christ prayed?"

Hope is found in the universal acceptance of the principle of baptism.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1903.

Pretty Shabby Treatment.

The forty or so esteemed Andover school teachers have formed a new organization to be called the "Anti B. & N.'s", and they are, every one of them, officers in the front ranks when it comes to doing stunts against our esteemed public servant, the street railway.

It came about in this way. Supt. Palmer had engaged a special car to convey them to the teachers' convention, at Peabody, last Friday. Visions of such glory as they had read Dowie was enjoying on his pilgrimage from Zion to New York in his "special car" came to their minds, and the teachers were so happy not a scholar in Andover was disciplined for a week before the day.

But the smiles they wore were destined to come off. They began to vanish when they failed to find any waiting room at Wilson's Corner on the transfer to the "special" going down. They were entirely gone when they found that one part of the great system (which wanted to consolidate so that all localities might be brought together and served by one company) was not allowed to run its cars upon the tracks of another system, so they changed cars at Danvers. They had changed to frowns when they gathered for return at 4 p. m. and started a hunt for the car Supt. Bruce had promised at that time.

It was the car that never came. The harmony of systems was again out of tune, and, after a long wait, standing room was enjoyed to Danvers. Surely the "special" was all right now, and being so sure all piled into a car on the waiting list and waited, altho' no one in authority could be found to approve the choice. The frowns were now making gray hairs and wrinkles, with more to follow, when all were ordered to "take the forward car for Andover and Lawrence". Talk of "special cars"! Room for one foot on the car floor was at a premium.

At Wilson's Corner all changed for Andover. The rain was very wet as usual, the mud was just as deep as usual, the car for Andover had gone as usual, they walked to Andover as passengers usually do, and the day had ended as all days end which depend upon the B. & N. for any part of their success, full of discomfort as usual.

From this it will not be difficult to see why forty more Andover citizens, mostly ladies, think it about time for some sort of a change in the management of this great system of street railways, that will make it possible for an agreement between customer and official to be good for at least twenty-four hours.

Free Church Fair.

The result of long labor and careful planning is to be set before the friends of the Free Church people, next Thursday evening, when the Town hall opens for the three days' fair to aid the church building fund.

We said "friends" of the Free Church, but we might have said just as properly all Andover, for all Andover is interested in the project which the fair is to assist. The years of quiet, helpful, earnest work, which have been done by this church in Andover, have not gone for naught in the making of friends in circles outside their own parish. On every hand people will be found ready to help, and, besides the help, be free with the kind word and hearty encouragement. Would that the coming fair might raise enough to build a church and equip it completely!

Editorial Cinders.

After all the discussion and queries regarding the joint caucus, it turns out that Andover will not have an opportunity to pass upon the question. And this is due to one more feature of the bill not thoroughly understood at the time of its passage. The last section of the bill says:

"This act shall take effect in Boston upon its passage. In other cities, and in towns using official ballots, the question of its acceptance shall be submitted to the voters at the next annual state election, etc."

The Attorney-General has ruled that the words italicised refer to towns using the Australia ballot in local elections, and, as Andover has never adopted that, the town is exempt from the operation of the law. The suggestion that its workings be observed in other cities is therefore very much to the point, and there is no further local consideration necessary for some time at least.

The echo of the good work done by the A. V. I. S. is heard this week through the report of the special committee which looked for prize gardens during the past summer. And, mark you, it wasn't difficult to find prize gardens either, for there were many of them. Andover's blossoming like the rose is due not a little to the A. V. I. S. encouragement.

Will outdoor flowers ever stop blossoming? Here are violets from Jas. Goodwin on Chestnut street, innocents from Winnifred Symonds, raspberry blossoms from Bella Bruce, apple blossoms from A. P. Richardson, snowdrops from old Boreas and Iceland (poppies) from Jack Frost. How's this for a full program for one week?

BURGLARS' BOLD BREAK

Residence of Mrs. Coburn on Central Street Entered—Terrible Experience of Miss Stafford.

One of the boldest burglaries ever committed in this town or vicinity was accomplished last Sunday morning when thieves visited at the beautiful residence of Mrs. George W. Coburn on Central street. Entrance was gained through a window on the first floor and the marauders found their way to the second floor where Mrs. Coburn and her maid, Miss Eliza Stafford, were asleep.

The room which was entered first was that of Miss Stafford, whose apartment is next to that of her mistress. She was awakened about 3.30 o'clock by a slight noise in her room and found that the electric lights were turned on. On seeing a masked man in her room she quickly turned around and inquired who it was. The intruder instantly covered her with a revolver and told her that if she uttered a sound he would shoot her.

It is believed by Miss Stafford that there were two men in the house as she heard a short conversation in Mrs. Coburn's room the only words of which were plain were, "She's all right," probably meaning that nothing was to be feared from her. Being too terrified to utter a sound Miss Stafford remained in her room under cover of the revolver while the other burglar ransacked Mrs. Coburn's room.

During the presence of the marauders Mrs. Coburn did not awaken and was not aware that her home had been invaded until informed by her maid upon awakening at the usual hour Sunday morning.

It was discovered upon investigation that a gold watch and several small articles of jewelry were taken from the room, they having been placed on a dressing table on Saturday night. A pocket book containing a small sum of money, which was in a bureau drawer was untouched, the thief being in a hurry, overlooked it.

Shortly after the robbers left the room a shot was fired but it is not known whether it was fired outside the house or in another part of the residence, but it is thought to have been a signal for another pal to make good his escape.

Chief Frye was notified of the break and went to Boston on Monday in the hope of finding some of the stolen jewelry in the pawn shops there.

Hiawatha in the Town Hall.

A large number of Andover people braved the stormy weather on last Friday night to witness the presentation of Hiawatha which was given in the town hall under the auspices of the Courteous Circle of the King's Daughters of the South church.

The concert consisted of a recitation of the beautiful poem of Longfellow, "Hiawatha," by Mrs. Juniata Salsbury and was illustrated by tableaux. Mrs. Salsbury is a very fine recitationist and the manner in which she presented the poem, together with the setting of the tableaux reflected much credit on her ability as an entertainer.

The entertainment was opened with selections on the pianola by Mr. Diminock of M. Steinert & Sons Co., which were very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Salsbury then recited the poem, telling of the birth, infancy, youth and manhood of Hiawatha which was interspersed by tableaux in which local talent participated. The costumes which were used were very striking and the stage setting was in typical Indian style.

Following is the program:

Selections on Pianola,
Mr. Diminock of M. Steinert & Sons Co.
Hiawatha's Infancy
Youth of Hiawatha
Music, "Colored Major"
Hiawatha and His Friends
Music, "Il Bacio" Arditi
The Tent of the Arrow Maker
Hiawatha's Wooing
Music, "In a Cozy Corner"
The Wedding Feast,
Introducing the Beggar's Dance
By Pau-puk-Kee-Wis
Music, "Hiawatha" Neil Moret
The Burial of Minnehaha
Music, "Hungarian Rhapsody" Liszt
Hiawatha's Farewell to His People
Finale, The Passing of the Tribe.
"Westward-Westward."

The characters:

Ladies—Miss Bosher, Mrs. Frank Hardy, Miss Eleanor Brooks, Miss Evelyn Reed, Miss Florence Ash, Miss Fannie Erving.

Gentlemen—Messrs. Corwin F. Palmer, Frank Hardy, Howard Wright, F. H. Foster, Geo. W. Low, Stanley Pratt, Wm. C. Bliss, Joseph Blunt, Ralph Bailey, Frank Barton.

Children—Henry Burtt, Howard Cates.

The following young ladies acted as ushers: Misses Maud M. Cole, Helena Lindsay, Alma Bailey, Madeline Hughes, Fannie French, Helen White, Mary Mason, May Holt.

Reid & Hughes remove from Lawrence January 1st 1904—From now until that date—they will make great effort to reduce stock—new fall goods—staple merchandise and high class novelties, all will feel the keen edge reduction knife, and if you value economy and want to save money, you have only to watch the daily advertisements of Reid & Hughes.

One hears considerable about apathy in politics this year, but the figures for registration in Andover do not indicate such a condition locally. The total new registration has been 93, 72 of the names being added during the past month, the net gain being nine over the total registration last year. The next thing is to register the vote.

Reception at Baptist Church

On Friday evening an opening reception was held at the Baptist church. During the evening Miss Alice M. Stone sang a solo, a trio was given by Miss Stone, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Gilbert, and Miss Mabel L. Peirce of Methuen played several selections on the organ. Addresses were given by P. F. Gilbert, who has had charge of all the repairs, by Rev. F. A. Wilson of the Free church, and by C. T. Morgan, D. D., of the 1st Baptist church, Haverhill. Mr. Gilbert explained the nature of the work done, calling particular attention to the pulpit set purchased with a bequest from the late Mrs. Kate F. (Leitch) Milner. Since spring some $1625.00 has been expended upon the church vestry. This has included the reflooring and the painting and decorating of the vestry, the painting and frescoing of the church, new carpet, solid oak paneling about the platform, the graining of the organ, the lowering of the baptistry and other changes about the platform and in the galleries and the leveling of the floor and the placing of new posts.

A vote of thanks was passed to P. F. Gilbert and to A. S. Wilbur for their services in connection with the repairs and to S. H. Bailey for his gift of cedar posts.

Refreshments, consisting of cake and ice cream were served by the members of the Y. W. S. C.

The Andover Guild.

A special meeting of the Directors of the Guild was held at the Guild House last Tuesday evening to consider the report of the committee previously appointed on nominations. In accordance with the committee's recommendations, the following standing committees for the year were elected: House committee, Messrs. A. L. Ripley, Burton S. Flagg, Mrs. F. A. Andrews; Case committee, Mrs. George Ripley, Mrs. David Middleton, Mrs. H. F. Wilson, Mrs. Wm. G. Goldsmith; Committee on Ways and Means, Messrs. J. Newton Cole, A. L. Ripley, B. S. Flagg. The committee on girls' work was continued for the present. After an extended discussion on boys' work a committee was appointed to consider plans and nominate a standing committee to carry them into execution and to report the same to the next regular meeting of the directors.

NOTICE.

We the milkmen of Andover will sell our milk at 6 cents a quart, from November 1, 1903 to November 1, 1904. Wholesale trade in boarding houses shall be 40 cents per 8 quart can Anything under will be 6 cents a quart.

FAIR NEXT WEEK

Town Hall Will be Transformed Into a Scene of Beauty. Arrangements Completed for the Free Church Fair.

Next week on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Friday and Saturday afternoons will occur the Free Church fair. The final arrangements have been about completed and it is expected that this fair will eclipse any that has ever been held in the Town hall.

Every committee is working to its utmost to make its special department successful and the support which they have received from the parishioners and the townspeople at large is very gratifying.

The proceeds of the fair will be added to the already goodly amount to be used for the erection of a new church edifice on Elm street.

In connection with the fair there will be an entertainment every evening and a special concert on Saturday afternoon for the children. There will also be a shooting gallery, Aunt Sally and a football kick, for which prizes for the best strings will be given. These will be held in the attic.

A cook book will be published by the advertising committee which will contain some choice receipts which have been sent in by the ladies of the church and also by generous friends of the ladies, and will be on sale at the fair for 25 cents.

There will be the various tables, including supper, candy, remembrance, flower, apron, fancy, lemonade, jellies, preserves and fruit, cake, mystery, doll, china, and ice cream, and the members of the helping hand society will have charge of a table.

A supper will be served every evening between 5.30 and 7.30 and an orchestra will furnish music during the supper hours or between six and seven o'clock. Admission to the supper room will be free to those who wish simply to secure their supper.

It has been decided to make the admission on Friday and Saturday afternoons 15c for adults and 10c for children.

Another entertainer has been secured for the fair in the person of Mr. William Greaves, who, as a black comedian, will sing some songs to his own accompaniment on the banjo.

Further announcements, as to the entertainments, will be given on the flyers to be distributed next week.

NOTICE.

The price of milk in town will be advanced on Nov. 1st, to 7 cents per quart, and 45 cents a can, as advertised two weeks ago in the Townsman.

PUNCHARD SCHOOL

Tuesday the football team played the Johnson high school team at North Andover. The score was 0-0. This is the third game played this season between these teams and neither side has scored. The fact that three 0-0 games have been played shows that the teams are evenly matched. Another game will be arranged to be played here some day next week. The line up will be as follows:

JOHNSON	PUNCHARD
Taylor re	le Jewett
Hamlin rt	lt McIntosh
Kilton rg	lg Holt
Frye c	c Haggerty
Bassett lg	rg Gillen
Badger lt	rt Davies
Wrigley le	re Towne
Josslyn q	q Thompson
Curley lhb	rhb Burtt
Greenwood fb	fb Clemons
Carey rhb	lhb D. Lindsay

Punchard 0, Johnson 0. Referee, Mr. Low. Timer, Upton. Linesman, Hammond. Two 15 minute periods.

In the first half North Andover had the advantage, gaining well through the line. On a fumble D. Lindsay got the ball for Andover and made the longest run of the game, eighty yards. During the second half Punchard showed up stronger than the North Andover team, but no consistent gains were made. Today Punchard plays the Danvers High school team on the grounds near the school.

Wednesday the school lunch system was put in operation. The food is served in the basement kitchen under the direction of Miss Goldsmith. Several of the school girls have been appointed to assist her. It is planned to serve articles at as near cost price as possible. Sandwiches cost two cents each, cocoa three cents a cup, and other articles are sold at corresponding prices.

Monday and Tuesday written examinations were given in place of regular recitation. It is the plan to have two examinations each term, making six for the year in each subject.

The Senior and Sophomore girls challenge the Juniors and Freshmen to a basket ball game.

Weddings.

RIPLEY–BACON.

At Peace Dale, R. I., on Wednesday, a very pretty and quiet wedding occurred, when Miss Mabel Ginevra Bacon, daughter of Rev. Leonard Woolsey Bacon of Assonet, and Philip F. Ripley, youngest son of Col. and Mrs. George Ripley of Central street, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed in the village church at 12 o'clock in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties by Rev. Dr. Vose of Providence, R. I., assisted by the bride's father, Dr. Bacon.

The bridal party marched into the church and took their places before the altar. Alfred Ripley, brother of the groom, was best man, while Miss Myra Bessie Bacon, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

The ushers were college classmates of the groom, William Churchill and Frederick Luquiens of Yale, Frank C. Dodd, and Leonard Bacon, cousin of the bride, of New York.

The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white liberty satin. She wore a veil and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a light green crepe de chene dress with black hat and carried pink carnations.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's brother, Nathaniel T. Bacon after which the happy couple left for a short wedding tour. They will reside in Concord, Mass.

MAY—KEEZER.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized, Wednesday at Bennington, N. H., when James S. May, son of Mrs. Isabella May of this town, and Miss Jessie Maud Keezer, daughter of Mrs. W. B. Keezer of Bennington, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed at one o'clock at the home of the bride by Rev. Mr. Bartley in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, beneath an arch and bell of evergreen and ferns, the ring service being used. Miss Edith May Bartlett, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid, while David M. May, brother of the groom officiated as best man. Miss Edna Keezer, niece of the bride and Miss Ruth Wilson were flower girls.

The bride was handsomely attired in a creation of white princess satin and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white muslin and carried geraniums. The flower girls were dressed in white muslin and carried white and pink carnations.

The house was prettily decorated with evergreen, potted plants and ferns, green being the most conspicuous color.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held and was attended by about fifty well wishers of the happy couple. Refreshments were served.

After the reception the bridal party left Bennington on an early evening train for Andover and will be at home at 88 East Chestnut street after November 1.

Andover ladies are always welcome at Farr's Remnant Store, 38 Appleton St. Lawrence.

THE TWO CHIEF CONTESTS

Who Will be Governor, and What is the Prospect on the Senatorship, are the Leading Questions for Next Tuesday.

It looks as if there would be only a fair vote cast next Tuesday, the principal interest being fixed upon the governorship and the election of a senator.

The representative election goes without a contest to John N. Cole for a second term. The election of register of deeds may be close if the republican vote is light, but with a full vote Mr. Sanborn is sure of a re-election. Certainly he should be kept in office by every rule that can be applied to such positions as he holds where politics has no proper place.

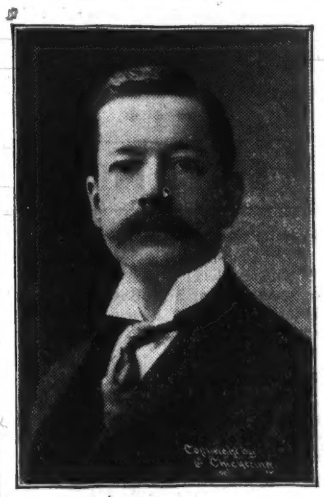

THE CONTEST FOR GOVERNOR.

GOVERNOR BATES.

John L. Bates, the republican candidate for governor, has served one year as the "first man" of the state. His career has been a notable one, showing an ability to advance in political life equalled by few Massachusetts men in the past century. He was born in North Easton, Sept. 18, 1859; was educated in Boston public schools, Boston University, and Law School; taught school for four years, and then began the practice of law in Boston, which he has followed ever since.

Gov. Bates' political career began as a member of the Boston common council. He was a member of the legislature in 1894-5-6 and speaker in 1897-8-9. He served as lieutenant-governor in 1900-1-2, and last year defeated Mr. Gaston for governor by nearly 40,000 votes. While the vote this year promises to be closer than in 1902, Gov. Bates seems sure of a re-election.

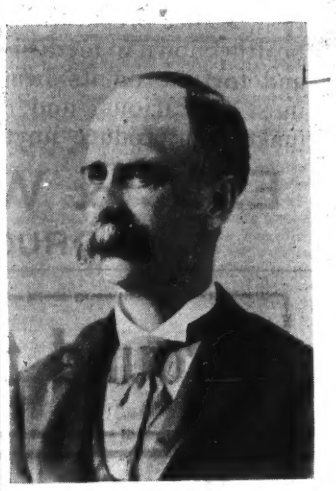

WM. A. GASTON.

Ex-Governor Long has said that "Billy" Gaston is a "mighty good fellow".

While that is far from the only platform upon which Mr. Gaston is running for governor, it is certainly a strong card in his campaign. W. A. Gaston was born in Boston. He is a graduate of Harvard, and of the Harvard Law School. As a lawyer, he occupies a prominent place in Boston legal circles, but his most notable work has been done as a business man. He was president of the Boston Elevated Railway for a number of years, and was the strongest factor in the development of that great system.

Mr. Gaston has never held any public office, being a marked contrast to his republican opponent in that particular. His closest friends believe he will win this year's election, but many democrats think the odds against him are too great for his success next Tuesday.

THE SENATORIAL FIGHT.

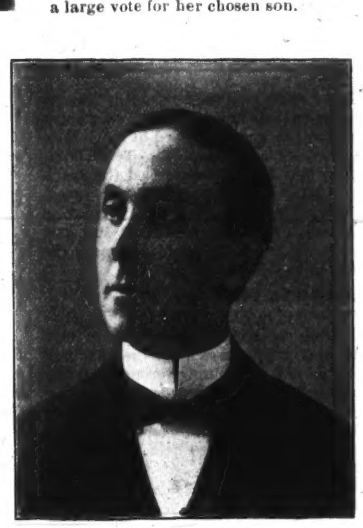

GRANVIELE E. FOSS.

The republican nominee for senator from the fifth Essex district is one of the best known citizens of Methuen. A lifelong resident of that town, he has long been a foremost figure in public life there, and his selection as a compromise in the ante convention differences over a Methuen candidate was a most natural outcome.

He served one term in the legislature in the nineties, and for more than twenty years he has served his town as moderator. He is at present engaged in the insurance business.

Genial and popular at home, and with a large acquaintance in Lawrence, Mr. Foss is expected to make a winning fight by the republicans of this district.

This will be the first time in many years that the republican nominee has come from the towns, and Methuen, especially, has a deep pride in rolling up a large vote for her chosen son.

JOSEPH J. FLYNN.

The democratic candidate for senator is one of the best known democrats in this vicinity. As a vote getter he established his reputation when he was elected to the senate in 1897. He followed that election by a try for congress, but was twice defeated by Congressman Knox in lively contests. It is believed by some excellent judges of things political that Mr. Flynn is not so strong in Lawrence as he has been, and republicans are expecting to cut down his vote in that city. But with all allowances made, the contest is sure to be a warm one.

Mr. Flynn is at the head of a very large amusement business which furnishes the entertainments for nearly all of the street railway summer resorts, and he is also the principal owner of the Lawrence Bill Posting Company.

HARMONIOUS MEETING

Andover Conference Meets at Chelmsford and Holds Successful Sessions.

Most successful and interesting were the sessions of the Andover conference which were held Tuesday at the Congregational church of Chelmsford Centre. The morning session was called to order by Moderator William Shaw of Ballardvale, Dr. A. W. Burnham of Kirk Street church, Lowell, being the recording secretary. Prayer was offered by Rev. G. E. Martin, D. D., of Lowell. In the absence of the pastor of the entertaining church, Rev. E. C. Bartlett, Rev. John M. Greene, D. D., of Lowell, gave the address of welcome, in the course of which he said that it was twenty-four years since the conference met at Chelmsford.

Moderator Ssaw responded in a few well chosen words.

The records of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Dr. Burnham, and were approved and adopted. It was stated that the average attendance for 14 years had been 117. Delegates present last year numbered 129, while this year just 100 presented credentials. The committee of arrangements reported through the program.

A business committee of three, to include the committee upon nominations, was appointed by the chair and confirmed by the conference; they were Rev. Mr. Page of Lawrence, Rev. C. W. Huntington of Lowell, and Deacon Archibald of Methuen. It was mentioned that since the last meeting of the conference death had removed Rev. Edwin Smith, pastor of the Ballardvale church, and a committee was appointed to express to the assembly and the family of the deceased the feeling of sorrow and great loss sustained in his decease.

Rev. G. E. Lovejoy, Rev. F. A. Wilson of Andover, and Dr. Greene of Lowell were appointed to attend to the framing of the resolution.

Rev. C. W. Huntington, D D., of Lowell was the first speaker, his theme being "The Union of the Denominations." Dr. Huntington said that last April a representative committee of the United Brethren, the Methodist Protestants, the Christians and the Congregationalists met at Pittsburg to consult as to the feasibility of the four denominations coming into closer relations up with each other. It was decided that the Christians were not ready to join in the movement, but the other three denominations were ready for such an affiliation and they so reported to the full committee last July. The results of the conference were a series of proposals to be submitted to the churches at the triennial conference which meets three years from this month. It was thought practicable that efforts be made toward absolute union of the three denominations. Also that a general council according to membership be appointed, one representative for every 5000 members to perfect the union. This committee to have no legislative power, but simply advisory authority. The object of this unison will be to increase the educational and missionary labors of these three denominations; to unite several weak churches, and make one strong organization, particularly in rural districts. The proposition of the union is to be brought before the three denominations at their several conferences. "It is a woeful pity," said Dr. Huntington "that the Christian body should be so divided. The Congregational sts number 650,000, the United Brethren 250,000, the Methodist Protestant 185,000.

It is thought by the union that religion may be made more effective, as differences in the denominations are not in creed, but are solely in the methods of church government.

Rev. C. H. Oliphant of Methuen gave the second address, his subject being: "The reception of children to church membership." He said the critical period in the child's life for parent, pastor, teacher and church commences at about the age of 12. If necessary, the church should neglect other channels, and attend to the establishment of right characters in the young people of its congregation. The infants of our families should be enrolled upon the cradle roll, next they should join the mission band, then the primary and higher departments of the Sunday school, after which should come a long probationary period, and he should be given the opportunity to recede or advance in his Christian life, but parents, teachers and pastor should use every means known to make the religious path attractive to youth.

Discussions on the themes presented followed in which Pastor G. E. Lovejoy of Lawrence and Rev. E. V. Bigelow of Lowell participated.

Rev. T. Clayton Welles of Lowell, was announced as the speaker upon "Family prayer," but owing to a sudden call from out of town, he was unable to be present, and the substitute whom he secured, Rev. Ralph Gillam of Lowell, gave an eloquent address.

Discussions followed, in which Rev. Sarah R. Dixon of Tyngsboro' asked, "Should wives who have unconverted husbands have a family altar, and how is it possible to do so, when the father and some of the older children are called away to the mills and stores before the younger children are down stairs?" In answer, some thought it was not necessary to have family prayers in the early morning hours, as there was danger in the stereotyped method of reading from the Bible, prayer and singing. Variety was necessary in order to make the service attractive.

A prayer service of 15 minutes was conducted by Rev. G. E. Lovejoy of Lawrence.

Brief remarks were made by Deacon Woodward of Chelmsford upon "What the conference can gather from the harvest fields of Chelmsford" the outcome of which was a bountiful collation, which was served in the vestry by the ladies of the church, covers being laid for 200.

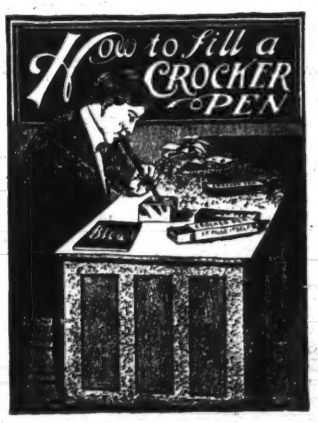

The conference adjourned at 1.30 p. m.

The afternoon session was called to order at 1.30. The business committee reported the nomination of W. H. G. Wight of High Street church, Lowell, for statistical secretary, and he was elected by ballot. William Shaw of Ballardvale was appointed a member of the committee of arrangements for four years. The next meeting will be with the Lawrence Street church of Lawrence; with Rev. E. Victor Bigelow of Lowell, moderator, Jacob Emerson of Methuen, alternate. The fellowship committee recommended that services in churches in Andover conference be held in Lenten season, and that pastors exchange services during that season, as may be most helpful to each other. The recommendation was accepted by the conference. The committee on systematic beneficence reported through Rev. E. V. Bigelow that the churches be urged to contribute more to the six societies of the denomination, the American board of foreign missions, the home department, church building, educational department, the American missionary society, and the Sunday school, supplemented by the ministerial aid, $1589 has been contrib-

Nixon Implicates Morgan.

The former head of the collapsed shipbuilding trust, Lewis Nixon, in the adjourned hearing of Examiner Oliphant at New York, told the whole story of the Schwab deal by which the trust was made to pay $30,000,000 in cash and securities for the Bethlehem plant, valued at under $9,000,000. Nixon said Schwab had cabled Morgan before raising his price from $9,000,000 to $30,000,000. The cash used to pay for the Bethlehem plant was loaned to Nixon and Dresser by Schwab himself. Nixon also testified that the reason given by Schwab for increasing the price was that he had to give Morgan $5,000,000 in preferred and common stock for his services.

What the Bankers Want.

The American Bankers' association on the last day of its annual convention at San Francisco adopted unanimously the resolutions of the currency committee appointed last year at New Orleans, of which Congressman Pugsley of New York was chairman. These declare that the only proper remedial measures for the currency lie in the establishment of a single gold legal tender, the cessation of the monthly coinage of a million and a half silver dollars, the maintenance on a parity with gold of the legal tender silver dollars outstanding and the recoinage of these silver dollars into subsidiary coin to meet the public requirements.

Harvester Trust's New Plan.

A Columbus (O.) dispatch tells of the astonishing economies of consolidation in the case of the International Harvesting Company of America: Not less than 5,000 employees are to be dispensed with. The selling agencies of the McCormick, Deering, Piano, Champion and Milwaukee Harvesting Machine companies will hereafter be under one management.

Several Banking Failures.

Close on the heels of the failure of the International Bank and Trust company of Mexico City came the collapse of two big trust companies at Baltimore early last week, the Union and Maryland. Later in the week the Federal bank of Pittsburg failed and the First National of Allegheny went into voluntary liquidation. Bad industrial securities caused the Federal's failure. A run on St. Louis trust companies began Tuesday.

Health of Chicago Banks.

President Forgan of the First National bank of Chicago, commenting on the recent bank failures elsewhere, said: "Chicago feeds the world. The money of Chicago banks is loaned against what the Lord has made instead of what man has made."

Speyer & Co. Get the "Soo."

According to the agreement reached last week, the plant of the Consolidated Lake Superior company was put formally in the possession of the company's principal creditor, Speyer & Co. of New York, Monday, and the date of payment of the $5,050,000 loan was postponed to Dec. 15.

Line Cuts Grain Rate.

The Toledo, St. Louis and Western railroad, known as the "Clover Leaf," has announced a reduction in the rate on export grain from St. Louis to New York of 2½ cents per 100 pounds less than the rate which its competitors are pledged to maintain. It may cause a general revision of tariffs.

"Pennsy" Cuts Expenses.

Besides refusing totally the demands of many employees for shorter hours and higher wages, the Pennsylvania railroad at the same time has dismissed a large number of employees. This cut in the pay roll is part of a general policy of retrenchment which includes abandonment, at least temporarily, of proposed improvements to the extent of about $10,000,000.

Gould to Gridiron the South.

George Gould in a letter read to the Mississippi valley convention at New Orleans says that $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 is to be spent in pushing his lines southward along the Mississippi. The Iron Mountain line from Memphis south is to be practically rebuilt and straightened. In a letter to the Philadelphia Trades league replying to its proposition to co-operating in securing an entrance into that city for the Wabash railroad George Gould gave assurance that he was determined to push the Wabash to that point, but declined to disclose his plans at present.

To Harness the Shoshone.

Senator Clark of Montana has decided to harness the famous Shoshone falls of Idaho and put them to work. It will require an outlay of $2,000,000. The senator will build an electric power plant that will generate 48,000 horse power and distribute it to all towns within a radius of 200 miles.

Midvale's New Armor Plate.

The Midvale Steel company of Philadelphia, which has received the government contract for armor plate, will use a new secret process which is to equal the Harvey or Krupp steel. A new $2,000,000 plant is to be erected at Nicetown for this purpose.

Labor.

Trouble For Trades Unions.

In a letter sent from Chicago by Thomas Kidd, secretary of the Wood Workers' union, to the 40,000 members, he said, "There are breakers ahead for the trades union movement."

Parks Held For Perjury.

Unable to secure satisfactory bail, Walking Delegate Parks went to jail on a new indictment for perjury, following confessions by Witnesses Lynch and Farley, who formerly had testified to his alibi in the extortion case.

Butte Miners' Bold Plan.

In a mass meeting of the idle copper miners of Butte, Mont., Oct. 4, a committee was authorized to offer the record price, $500 a share, for the Heinze interests in the Boston and Montana company with the object of ending the long and damaging litigation between Heinze and Clark which held the mines idle. Heinze refused to sell, but offered to arbitrate the whole matter. This was rejected by the men.

Labor Drives Out Publishers.

The large and well known publishing house of Rand, McNally & Co. of Chicago was reported Tuesday to have decided to remove its printing plant from that city. This move was taken only after the company had been compelled to secure an injunction against the striking press feeders, who had demanded an increase of from $2 to $3 a week in wages. President McNally said to a reporter: "We have either got to move or get out of business. We are paying higher wages than are paid in New York or any other city in the United States. Owing to the excessively high wages we cannot compete with publishing firms within a radius of 500 miles of Chicago. They are taking business away from us."

Labor Notes.

The attempt of New Orleans labor unions to boycott two theaters resulted in record breaking audiences. * * * New York's L motormen were on point of striking against a severe test of their vision. * * * Boston telegraph managers locked out messengers in anticipation of a strike and delivered messages by telephone and by mail. * * * A nonunion machinist at Columbus, O., shot and killed one of three men who assaulted him.

EDUCATIONAL

Methodist College Trust.

President James of Northwestern college has just announced at Evanston, Ill., plans for combining under one head about thirty of the western Methodist colleges under one management, with Northwestern at the head. According to figures quoted by President James, the thirty colleges, when under the management of Northwestern university, will give the combination a total of at least 16,360 students and 1,087 instructors.

Educational Notes.

Columbia students during the summer vacation earned $31,401. * * * Philadelphia School Superintendent Edward Brooks, moved by the popular outburst about overworked children, has placed himself on record in favor of a study hour in the public schools to obviate having the children loaded with work to be done at home evenings. * * * The trustees of the Princeton university elected Harry A. Garfield, son of the late President Garfield, as professor of politics to succeed Professor Finley.

A Million to Education.

The will of Miss Mary P. Ropes of Salem, Mass., whose father amassed a fortune in the paint business at Cincinnati, makes educational bequests to the amount of $1,000,000, including Harvard, Tuskegee, Carlisle and several Ohio colleges.

Nobel Prize to Marconi.

The Academy of Sciences at Copenhagen has decided to award the Nobel prizes this year as follows: Literature, Henrik Ibsen and Bjornstjerne Bjornson; physics, Signor Marconi, and medicine, Dr. Finsen.

Radium From Solium.

A consular report on the new metal solium contains the statement that radium can be manufactured in a liquid state from solium at a cost of $5 a quart. This new metal is said to possess a very light specific gravity and to be hard as steel and brilliant as silver. Its chief component is chloride of solium.

Boy Finds Sun Spots.

Hubert S. Howe, the fifteen-year-old son of Professor Howe of Denver university, made the discovery Tuesday of a new group of sun spots, using a twenty-six inch telescope.

Latest Trolley Record.

Another speed test on the experimental electric railroad from Marienfelde to Zossen was made Oct. 23. A rate of 131½ miles an hour was achieved. At the last test a speed of about 125¾ miles was reached. The track was four miles long.

Art, Music, Letters

John Sargent has been awarded the Harris $500 prize for his portrait of W. M. Chase, which was thought to be the best picture at the Chicago Art institute by an American artist within two years.

The German impressionists have refused to exhibit at the St. Louis fair because their leader, Director von Tschudi of the National Gallery of Berlin, has been removed by the government, which looks on this school of artists as too radical politically.

A Russian periodical has published a number of poems signed "Olaf" which are believed to be the work of the czar.

The use of the word "jolly" as a verb has received the sanction of a chancery report in the federal court at Chicago.

Sir Henry Irving, the English actor, and his company have begun at New York a five months' tour of this country, producing Sardou and Moreau's "Dante."

Dan Patch at Top Again.

The fastest mile ever made by a horse in harness was witnessed by more than 5,000 people at Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 22, when Dan Patch circled the track in 1:56¼. No wind shield was used. Prince Alert's record was 1:57. Again, Tuesday, Dan Patch lowered the half mile sulky record to 56 flat and the wagon to 1:57¼.

Lou Dillon Leads All.

Lou Dillon established a new world's trotting record at Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 24, only a few days after Cresceus had beaten her two-minute record, by doing her mile in the wonderful time of 1:58½. She was driven by Millard Sanders. Prior to this Lou Dillon had beaten Major Dangerfield for the gold cup.

Crossed Ocean In Dory.

Captain L. Eisenbraun, who sailed from Boston in a seventeen foot dory, reached Madeira, Oct. 23, after a voyage of seventy-two days, a distance of 3,000 miles. The boat will be seen at the St. Louis fair.

Accidents.

A blast in the New York subway Oct. 24 caused a cave in resulting in death of ten workmen and injury of others.

In testing a gun at Indian Head Oct. 24 the gun exploded, killing one attendant and wounding one.

Deaths.

Professor R. H. Thurston, head of the Sibley mechanical college of Cornell university, died Oct. 25 on his sixty-fourth birthday.

William E. H. Lecky, the famous essayist and historian, formerly member of parliament for Dublin university, died at Dublin Oct. 23.

Robert W. Wilcox, former Hawaiian delegate to congress, died at Honolulu Oct. 24.

Meaning of the Alaskan Award

A surgical operation has been performed. It removes a long standing sore in the relationship between the United States and Canada. Alaska is ours, about as we have always claimed, Canada retaining control of the Portland canal and Pearse island.

Just for the moment Canada suffers from the shock of this operation, even though the knife was held by the wise, firm hand of Lord Chief Justice Alverstone. She recoils from her mother country and is jealous of her big American neighbor, bred from the same stock. But manifestly this can be only a temporary effect.

The reaction will come. Canada could not cut loose from England if she would and would not if she could. She cannot get away from herself nor from the forces that draw her in the line of least resistance. The decision draws America closer to Great Britain as a whole. Mr. Carnegie's prediction of an English speaking world nation to which the United States and Canada will contribute 250,000,000 people is timely.

The Alaskan award is a step toward Anglo-Saxon unity.

At the reunion and banquet of the Essex County Jury Association held in Boston Saturday, A. H. Clark of this town was elected secretary and treasurer.

A movement is on foot in Lawrence to form a camp of Sons of Veterans, that is to include the Sons from Methuen and the Andovers as well as from Lawrence. The camp will probably be formed in Lawrence this week.

A meeting of the newly organized lodge of Good Templars will be held in the Adams block in Lawrence next Wednesday night, when the officers will be installed, and the lodge will be officially instituted. The lodge was formed at a meeting recently held in Odd Fellows hall in this town, and many of the influential members are residents of Methuen.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Ruth Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Morrison observed the tenth anniversary of her birth at the home of her parents on Park street, Saturday afternoon. Her birthday occurred yesterday, but the occasion was observed on Saturday.

About 40 young people were present, besides many of the young people's parents. The party was held from 4 to 6 o'clock. The room where Miss Morrison entertained her guests was prettily decorated with smilax and chrysanthemums. This was done by Mrs. George Merrill. Musical selections were given by Donald Morrison, Jr., Mrs. George N. Blodgett, Ethel Lowell and others. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, etc., were served by Miss Lou Brown of Lynn and Master Donald Morrison.

During the afternoon Miss Morrison was presented with a fine umbrella, Miss Helen Emmons making the presentation in behalf of those present. She also received a number of other presents.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to E. M. & W. A. Allen's drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

CHEERFUL WORKERS MEET.

A meeting of the Cheerful Workers of the Baptist church was held Monday night at the residence of Mrs. George G. Frederick on Park street. Matters pertaining to the harvest supper to be served tomorrow night at the vestry were talked over, and the arrangements were completed. The supper will be served from 6 to 8, and will be followed by an entertainment, consisting of musical selections and readings. There will probably be a table for the sale of canned goods and vegetables. Among other business transacted was the election of George Slader as treasurer in place of Miss Fernette Frederick, who has resigned the office.

Plans were also talked over for the annual Christmas sale to be held at some date early in December, probably the first Thursday in the month. It is planned to have more on sale this year than at any other sale ever held before by the society. The Farther Lights society is to have a table for the sale of several kinds of fancy articles at this fair.

Next Tuesday is the date of the state election. The local polling place will be as usual in the town hall for precinct 1 and in the Arlington school building basement for precinct 2. The polls will be opened at 6 in the morning, and closed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

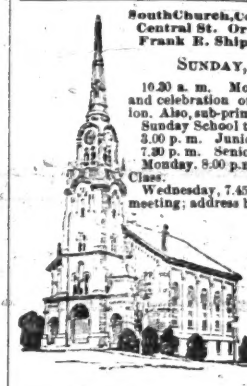

The funeral of David M. Cole was held from his late home on Forest street, Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. R. Libby of the local Congregational church officiated. Many friends were in attendance. The body reposed in a black casket, and was surrounded by a large number of choice floral pieces. Interment took place in Elmwood cemetery. The pall bearers were Hugh Smith, Moses Smith, John Clark and William Williams.

DO GOOD—IT PAYS.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word, and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by E. M. & W. A. Allen.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it.

In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

A. V. I. S. Prize Gardens.

With the large number of competitors and the excellence of many of the gardens, the awarding committee has found it a difficult matter to do justice to all. The fact that this year 181 entered their names as wishing to compete for the prize while last year there were but 80, shows how the interest has grown. Many were dropped from the list after the first inspection, but enough remained to make the awarding of the prizes no easy task. In making the awards the committee has taken into account not merely the excellence and beauty of each garden, but also the age of the child and the difficulties to be overcome. Taking these facts into consideration, the lists are as follows:

First prize—Maud Orcutt, 8 Maple avenue, Burnett Matthews, 197 N. Main street, Clarence Auty, 22 Haverhill street, Walter and Theresa Remmes, Missionary Lane, Arthur Hoffman, Andover street, Ballardvale.

Second prize—Malachi Lynch, 48 Morton street, Mary Dolan, North District, Annie Batchelder, 100 School street, Mary and Lizzie Dick, 3 Cuba street, Wendall and Mary Kydd, 1 Mineral street.

In addition to the amount given in prizes, the A. V. I. S. voted a small sum, to be given as gratuities to those whose work merited approval. Their names were as follows:

Gratuities—A. and E. Eastwood, 189 N. Main street, Charlie Bowman, 66 Park street, Helen Holt, 66 Chestnut street, Isabel Bruce, 3 Mineral street, Helen Hardy, North District, Bessie Corthell, Tewksbury street, Ballardvale, Emma Holden, Phillips street, Mildred Weeks, Central street, Ethel M. Brownell, 1 Phillips street, Sarah Coyne, Pine street, Annie Kyle, Elm Court.

The experiences of the year offer great encouragement. One of the pleasantest features has been the cordial reception given to the visitors by the parents, who in many instances expressed their hearty approval of the work, and the awarding committee feel that they are but voicing the sentiments of all the visitors in declaring that the visiting of the gardens ceased to be a task and became a pleasure.

HISTORICAL ANDOVER

No. 112.

Valpey from Jersey.

Baird's "French Huguenots" tells us of the men of Jersey and Guernsey in the English Channel, who found their way across to us between 1662 and 1680. These islands, held by William of Normandy when he moved across to England, have always been loyal to Britain, though French in language. Protestant refugee from the main land of France, English smuggler and Canadian fisherman, alike found a safe hiding place on these rocks, and France did not find that it paid to meddle with them. Philip English was early in Salem, and a man of wealth, aiding others to come over. Touzall, Browne, Chevalier, Cabot, LeFavor with Bradley and Valpey sound familiar, also Morrill and Butler, slightly altered in spelling. The first Valpeys I could find did not get along until 1727. Thomas appears that year in Marblehead marrying Hephziba Ray, while Abraham annexes Elizabeth Fowle in Salem, Sept. 28, 1728. She was daughter of Zachariah Fowle and Ruth Ingersoll. Family tradition has it that these two men with others were separated from their fleet in a storm and picked up drifting at sea by a Salem ship and decided to make America their home. Thomas lived till 1760 Abraham until 1750. They were born about 1700, calculating from the age of the wives. Neither left a will and the state of Salem records makes it difficult to pick up the second generation. Going between Salem and Marblehead church lists and carefully studying all deeds, I succeeded in getting a fair idea of the extent of the tribe. The Episcopal church of Salem holds most of the baptisms which I have not seen. For Thomas 1 found only a daughter Rachel, wife of William Trefford, and a son John, who married Abigail Gross and his sons maybe sailed back to Jersey again if he had any in his short life. Abraham and Elizabeth also raised a [3]John, who moved to Marblehead and left only girl heirs after 20 years of fishing. I suppose the sea swallowed many boys named Valpey.

[2]Abraham of Salem married Lydia, daughter of Joseph Clough and Susanna Reeves, born about 1736, very likely near his own age. Abraham died a mariner, after a hard life in the East India service, with varying luck in fishing, leaving a small estate he bought of the widow Elizabeth, who kept part of the original homestead. It seems to have been purchased of the widow Cox and lay on Main street and on Daniels' lane, later a street. Widow Cox appears to be a relative of the Fowles also, and kept part of the estate, whose division line ran through the chimney, and the front stairs and door were in common. Abraham Senior had mortgaged this first home of Valpey to John Cabot, a Salem merchant, and when mother Elizabeth sold to [2]Abraham, the estate was still controlled by the mortgage. Elizabeth added other land in 1767 and in her will in 1771, fortunately for her posterity, named her four sons [3]John, [3]Abraham, [3]Richard and [3]Benjamin, and gave the share she still held in the "pueblo" to granddaughter Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Talbot, who had cared for her, and appears to be the only survivor of a girl [2]Elizabeth, who probably married Daniel Darling. Beds, blankets, pewter and brass, 40 bottles and a warming pan testify to the comfort of the sailor's home. Thomas Talbot did not find much left, Elizabeth had spent it all and left some debts. They did not fully settle up till 1816 I judge by documents. John Cabot died and his son Francis succeeded to the long winded mortgage. Fishing did not pay the interest, and in 1784, Cabot said he must have his money. No doubt the site on Daniel's Lane was now of value for business, and old Lydia in possession of dower rights hard to get off. Finally, at the crisis, a worthy spinster, who was called Abigail Berry, furnished the cash and here, said Dr. Bentley (her pastor) Lydia died in 1801 aged 66. She was a Boston girl once, and her only daughter who lived with her was a fisherman's wife also, added to the lighter peril of the merchant service.

[2]Ben. Valpey lived near his father, and married Hannah Berry, a neighbor from Marblehead. He died in 1783 and in vain did I try to find any trace of a family in Salem or Marblehead. Someone may be more successful. Some of them wrote the name Walpee. In the library of Rev. Thomas Valpey, an Andover boy, we find a stray volume of sermons by R. Valpey, who was a Doctor of Divinity and Rector at Reading in old England between 1775 and 1812; possibly he was near the age of these sons of Abraham and a distant cousin. R. may stand for Richard. He was a native of St. Helier in Jersey, which town he visits annually and is made much of in poems of welcome and preaches his sermons all around the section where he is settled. Dr. Valpey has a wide range. He belonged to the Humane Society and rescues the drowning, etc., for which he gives minute rules of procedure. He preaches to judge, jury and accused at the Assizes and at court occasionally. He hates Napoleon "the monster of France" while he loves that country where he a Protestant lad, was trained by Catholic clergymen, whom he recalls with affection, while he condemns the mother church. He joins a militia company to repel Napoleon and preaches the sermon at the presentation of colors, also to many of the poor aristocrats who are driven by mobs from London as well as Paris to take refuge in Reading, where a few loyalists from America are numbered among his friends, though he speaks as well as he dares for the new government over the seas. His sermon on the slave trade is the best thing next to Napoleon's "actions." At the back the publisher, A. J. Valpey of Tooks Court, Chauncey Lane, names eleven booksellers who also dispense a long list of Greek and Latin text books, etc., the work of our Dr. D. Valpey and Dr. Edward Valpey, equally gifted, so it all seems like a family affair and indicates the standing of the home folks in 1800.

Meanwhile [2]Richard Valpey of Salem mariner, head of a long line of East India captains and privateers, married Hannah Ives and cut loose from the crowded quarters on Daniel street, and bought a house on Hardy street near Essex. Mr. Eames, the last of the long generations from great grandsir Richard, well recalls the old homestead with a church across the street a little on one side and a rooster for its weather vane. Hannah Ives married Nov. 25, 1756, died in 1786 and in 1788 he married Margaret Bachelder of a Wenham line, widow of a Hinckley. She lived till 1816, after his death at 75 in 1799, at the old home place. The old Larkin place once, from widow Mary Smith, it passed to Richard at an auction sale, with 20 poles of land which became more valuable as the years went by. Skipper Valpey as captain Richard was called was, "an honest, humble man" according to Dr. Bentley, and humility was a rare virtue in a Salem skipper of 1736 to 1799. Probably the side he turned to the church did not interfere with his duty on deck. He left four sons and three daughters, and alas! I do not find them all yet, neither can the grandchildren recall all their great uncles and aunts, because they were Andover children later on and lost grip on Salem. The estate was in a tight place, widow Margaret could not stay on without aid, so young [3]Abraham came forward. He had just married an Andover girl, sister of Gen. Stephen Abbott of Salem and backed by these well-to-do relatives, he assumed the responsibility of $950 needed to control the whole estate in 1801. He tenderly cared for Margaret till 1816, and here all the young Valpeys we knew best grew up. When in old age Elizabeth Abbott left him in 1833 he transferred the home to son Samuel of Andover and the two daughters who lived in Ipswich, and died there in 1848 at 83.

[3]Richard the eldest son married Susanna Baker of Marblehead, and lost several children by small pox and malarial fever, and Dr. Bently hints that Richard held peculiar views in regard to medicine, so that he had doubts of the treatment of the cases. The son and three girls named in the pastor's diary are not yet found.

[3]Joseph married Mehitable Murray and had [4]Samuel, [4]George, single men on whom he administers after their last voyages, while one [4]Richard of Lynn lived to bury old Joseph in 1842. This Joseph surely was the hero of the "America"[5] the privateer nothing could catch, who sailed up into the Channel and took a British boat loaded with rum and sugar in 1812 war, for one exploit and they sent Joseph Valpey home with her followed by a second prize next day. The America under Capt. Ben Cheever hung around the convoys from St. Thomas to Glasgow, all the men old seamen, all captains, who stuck at nothing to make speed. It was the second boat called America that brought over the first elephant in 1797 to New York and he brought $10000. The 4th boat was built at Beverly and the Crowninshield owner said to the skipper as he left with an errand for spice to Surinam, "See that you obey orders for once" and somewhere in a port the news came of a good chance for a load of Mocha coffee and gumarabic, and the skipper proceeded to disobey orders, and long over due, he was met in a sail boat down harbor by the anxious owner with "What have you got?" "Pepper." "You lie, I can smell coffee." He was sent to Holland to get $100,000 for it. The Valpeys being humble, obeyed orders very likely, for the sea swallowed their sons and kept them hard at work without great gains.

[3]George Valpey I could only marry to Dorcas Abbott of Andover, a niece of [3]Abraham's wife, quite late in life in 1803. He probably died childless, for she married Capt. Joseph Sibley in 1810, and had five children recorded, one named George Valpey. Sibley who came back to Andover for his cousin Phebe Abbott, and were parents of the Mrs. Orlando Norcross of Worcester and George Sibley of Salem, not Valpeys. There were five girls in Salem named Valpey I could not place, who married between 1779 and 1802. The line of [2]Abraham Valpey and Elizabeth Abbott needs a supplementary paper to explain how this long line of mariners brought us our first provision merchant of Andover, 100 years ago.

HE LEARNED A GREAT TRUTH.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. McAll Mission.

The annual meeting of the Andover Auxiliary of the American McAll association was held at the home of Mrs. John L. Brewster, Tuesday afternoon, October 27, the meeting beginning at 3.30 o'clock. Officers for the coming year were elected, a letter of greeting from Mrs. Charles Parkhurst, president of the American association, was read as well as portions of the annual report. The most interesting feature of the afternoon was the account of the work as she became acquainted with it, given by Miss Alice Bell. Miss Bell has just returned from a sojourn abroad of two years, most of which time was spent in Paris. She became well acquainted with Madame Le Gay who has been so long active in the McAll Mission and who represented it so well, several years ago, in this country. From Mme. Le Gay, Miss Bell often heard of the varied work of the Mission Halls. Her account of the Christmas festival for the mothers as well as that held for the children with the brilliantly lighted Christmas tree, made us feel as though we had been there too. Many of the women who go to these meetings need the plain, practical advice that is so kindly given them, they enjoy the singing, the reading of the Bible and the simple Bible talks. They go out from these meetings, better, more cheerful, more generous in spirit and in deed. Children and adults rejoice in the possession of the Scriptures, given sometimes as rewards of merit, and they learn with astonishing quickness the words that are so near and so precious to them. They are appreciative of what is done for them and the progress though slow is surely being felt, the unremitting toil of the workers is having even now its reward.

Get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets at E. M. & W. A. Allen's drug store. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills. Then their use is not followed by constipation, as is often the case with pills. Regular size, 25c. per box

DOWD'S PARDON PETITIONED FOR.

On Tuesday Representative S. B. Ryan of this city took to Boston for presentation to the governor and executive council a petition for a pardon for Thomas Dowd of this city who is serving a life sentence in state prison.

Dowd was convicted in the Middlesex superior court in 1899 of assault on a man named Cover at Lowell, in company with Thomas F. Logue, also of this city, who was pardoned last week on the ground of ill health. The petitioners pray for a reopening of Dowd's case on the grounds of newly discovered evidence which will tend to show his innocence of the crime for which he is serving sentence.

Dowd has several brothers living in ward two, who have conducted a quiet investigation of the case, with the result that they are thoroughly convinced that he was unjustly sentenced.

ALDERMEN VOTE TO RAISE SALARIES.

At the regular meeting of the board of aldermen Monday night action on the Ward Two schoolhouse loan and on the salary resolution was deferred.

A direct order was adopted increasing the pay of the assistant marshal and captain of the night watch to $3.50 per day and the inspectors and captains to $3 per day.

Famous Athletes

Take "Blood Wine."

This is a good picture of Mr. James H. Hughes, of 442 Pearl St., New York, the champion amateur wrestler of the United States. He says: "'Blood Wine' was first brought to my attention when I was a trifle run down, and a friend asked me to try a bottle. I purchased one bottle, and the effect was almost instantaneous. At the time I was nervous from over exercise. My stomach was in bad condition, and, in fact, I was in no shape to row or engage in all-round athletics. As a toner-up of the system and especially that part of the athlete's anatomy which he uses most, I can heartily recommend 'Blood Wine.'"

Gus Rhulin, the Akron giant whose wonderful strength, and skill as an athlete has put him in the class with Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Corbett, Sharkey, and others also, takes "Blood Wine," writes as follows:

NEW YORK, 86th St. and 13th Ave.

"At times I have been greatly fatigued from over-training and have used 'Blood Wine' as a strengthener. It certainly is a remedy for the kidneys, liver, blood and nerves. On one occasion I had a pain in my back and found that after a few doses of 'Blood Wine' the pain entirely disappeared. A remedy that will remove pain so quickly in an athlete should be good for others. It has no equal."

GUS RHULIN.

Dyker Heights, A. C.

Miss Belle Gordon, the famous champion woman athlete, says: "When my attention was first called to 'Blood Wine' I was greatly run down and almost on the verge of nervous prostration. Physicians prescribed for me, without relief, and not until I began to take 'Blood Wine' did I become myself again. I am now strong and vigorous, wouldn't be without 'Blood Wine.'"

Injured by Electric Car.

An unknown man was struck by an Andover bound car on the Haverhill & Andover street railway line shortly after 11 o'clock last Sunday night and still lies between life and death at the General hospital in Lawrence.

The unfortunate man was walking along the track in front of the car and as it was quite dark it was impossible for the motorman to see a great distance ahead of him, although the car was going slowly at the time. The motorman claims that he had just blown the whistle before he detected the man walking in the car tracks.

The accident occurred near Massachusetts avenue in North Andover. The motorman detected the man walking in the car tracks. He was so close to the car the strenuous efforts of the motorman were insufficient to cause the stopping of the car. The victim was struck and thrown down. He was picked up by the car crew and it was seen that he was seriously injured. He was taken into the car and it proceeded to Andover, where Chief of Police Frye was notified. Chief Frye summoned Dr. J. P. Torrey, who gave the man medical attendance and ordered him removed to the Lawrence General hospital.

At the hospital the man is receiving skillful treatment but the chances for his recovery are considered slim. Although it seems certain that he cannot recover it is possible that he may. His right leg is fractured near the knee and on his head are five cuts, and two or three depressions that may possibly be fractures of the skull.

On Tuesday the injured man regained semi-consciousness and he muttered "James Howard" several times and it was thought that this might be his name.

The following is a description of the unfortunate victim: Age, 45 years, heavy build, five feet, eight inches tall, gray eyes, heavy sandy hair, mustache, brown. Wore black coat and vest, black overcoat, dark trousers, white collar, knitted black tie and button shoes, with derby hat. In appearance he resembles a foreigner. In his pocket were found a small amount of money, a pay envelope numbered 265, and marked 814. A clay pipe and tobacco were found also, besides a silver watch, numbered 8010920. The watch case was numbered 3268. No other articles were found on his person that would tend to reveal his identity.

On Tuesday, the injured man regained consciousness sufficiently to reveal his identity. His name is Garrett Burke, sometimes called John Burke, of North Andover. His home is at 856 Turnpike street, but he has been working in Newburyport of late. He is an electric track layer. He is still at the hospital, though his condition is somewhat improved.

School Notes.

The regular monthly meeting of the school committee will be held Monday evening.

All school bills should be sent to the secretary not later than noon of the first Monday of the month to insure payment that month.

Mr. J. W. Andrews, director of drawing in the public schools, and Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, teacher of sewing, met the teachers of the district schools at the West Centre schoolhouse Monday afternoon, to give them instruction and direction in these departments of school work. Mr. Andrews held a meeting of the teachers of the first three grades at the John Dove schoolhouse on Tuesday afternoon.

The following are the flag days to be observed in the schools for the month of November:

3	Election Day.
3	Birthday of Bryant,	1794
7	Battle of Tippecanoe,	1811
11	Signing of the Mayflower Compact,	1620
15	Battles of Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge,	1863
25	New York evacuated by British,	1783
26	Thanksgiving Day.
29	Birthday of Wendell Phillips,	1811

It is hoped that parents will use every effort possible to send their children to school every day. The habit of regularity and promptness is well worth while for its own sake.

Strength and vigor come of good food duly digested. "Force," a ready-to-serve wheat and barley food, adds no burden, but sustains, nourishes and invigorates.

HUNTING IN THE MAINE WOODS.

LAW OFF ON MOOSE, OCT. 15.

The rush is on! Hundreds are now journeying towards the Maine woods. The sportsman who has tired at blazing at the numerous deer, is now waiting for a shot at the big fellows. The law was off on moose last Thursday, and this giant of the forest, the king of the Maine woods is crashing through the brush of the celebrated Moosehead, Aroostook, Rangeley and Washington County regions, pursued by the enthusiastic Nimrod.

Get your gun, and enjoy a week or two in Maine's timberlands.

Health and sport await you. Send a two cent stamp to the Passenger Department, Boston and Maine R. R. Boston, for the beautiful illustrated booklet called "Fishing and Hunting." It tells all about the game region of Maine and New Brunswick.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

ANDOVER 3; LYNN 1

The first Lynn match of the season in the Merrimack Valley Association Football league was played on the West Lynn grounds Saturday afternoon between the Lynn and Andover teams. A large crowd saw the contest. The Lynn team was defeated 3 to 1. Andover proved to be too much for Lynn from start, and although the home team had seven tries they only succeeded in getting one goal. O'Connell's work at the Andover goal was exceptionally good. The summary:

Andover—O'Connell g, Watson and Matthews b, Carnie, Black and Smythe hb, Falconer and Moore rw, R. Lowe c, Richardson and Caine lw.

Lynn—Stone g, Turnbull and Russell b, Laurie, Murphy and Crabbe hb, Wilkinson c, Spencer, Robinson and Kershaw f.

Score—Andover 3; Lynn 1. Linesmen, J. Collier. Referee, Aspen of Lowell. Forty-five minute halves.

uted from the 28 churches in the conference which embraces Lowell, Lawrence, Andover, North Andover, Methuen, Tyngsboro, Chelmsford and Dracut and $1670 expended in mission work in the churches of the Andover conference. The deficiency was made up by personal contributions.

Rev. George E. Lovejoy of Lawrence reported for the committee appointed to draft resolutions upon the death of Rev. Edwin Smith, pastor of Ballardvale.

The subject of the afternoon was "The teaching function of the church." Rev. H. G. Mank of Lawrence spoke upon "Why is it so difficult to get Bible teachers?"

"For what results should the teachers aim?" was answered by Rev. Sarah R. Dixon of Tyngsboro, in so eloquent a manner that at the close of her address she was given vigorous applause.

Rev. F. I. Kelly of Dracut had for his subject "What is the responsibility of parents for the Bible school?"

George E. Johnson, superintendent of public schools of the Tewksbury district, spoke from his personal experiences on "What can the Bible school learn from the public schools?"

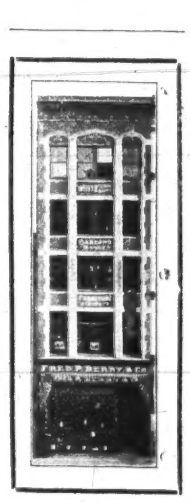

Rev. H. H. French, pastor of the First Congregational church, Malden, gave the last address of the conference on "The preacher as a teacher," at the conclusion of which a discussion took place.

A vote of thanks was given Dr. French for his very able sermon, and after the singing of a hymn the conference closed with the benediction by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow.

THE BOND PROTECTS YOU

E. M. & W. A. Allen Give Signed Bond, with Mi-o-na the Flesh Forming Food.

With every box of Mi-o-na, the flesh-forming food and digestion regulator E. M. & W. A. Allen give the following guarantee bond, binding themselves to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give an increase in weight and cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

GUARANTEE BOND

We hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na, if the purchaser tells us that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles.

E. M. & W. A. Allen.

For years there has been a demand for a natural means for increasing flesh, and Mi-o-na has come to supply this need.

It is not a cod liver oil preparation, but a combination of flesh-forming elements, that regulates and aids digestion and restores health. It mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition.

Every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, has that tired feeling, loss of appetite, or is losing flesh or is in a run down condition, should take the guarantee bond E. M. & W. A. Allen and begin the use of Mi-o-na at their risk.

Remember the treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it. 16.36
